RNA Showgrounds Regeneration Project – Major Announcements

The RNA will make several major announcements tomorrow about its new world-class convention and exhibition centre including the first look inside and plans for this year's Ekka. Transforming the Industrial Pavilion (showbag pavilion) into the $59 million convention centre is part of stage one of the $2.9 billion 15 year RNA Showgrounds Regeneration Project which began in April 2011. The project is the largest Brownfield development of its kind in Australia and the most significant urban renewal project in Brisbane since Southbank.
