Strong class with elegance, finesse and sensitive oak handling. Wines in balance, less sugar, some showing oxidation.

Judges Comments:

Interesting class to judge with some great examples of Viognier, Gewurztraminer and Pinot Gris. Nice to see Vermentino gold. One Gold winning Pinot Gris attracted a big discussion where the pronounced colour (which was pristine) was accepted because the flavour showed intensity and drinkability.

Judges Comments:

Good class. Top wines concentrated and fine examples. Many wines short on mid-palate rather than green tannin excesses. Less brett and less oak imbalance.

Judges Comments:

A class of contrasts with quite a few older wines passed their best. The top three were a contrast of styles.

A class dominated by prematurely aged dry and aggressive wines. Surprising incidence of herbacious wines. Top wines balanced, polished styles with excellent use of oak.

Judges Comments:

Group of fast fading wines with poor colour and lacking vitality. Some wines might have been good except for Bret spoilage. Generally younger classes of Merlot looked superior.

Judges Comments:

Fair class. Several very good wines with nose attraction and harmony, significant over-ripeness. Overuse of oak or oak artifacts were unimpressive.

A class lacking excitement. Few outstanding wines - those were balanced, expressive and complex. Otherwise too many wines over oaked, stale, forward and dried out.

Most wines were fading fast with developed colours and lack of vibrancy. Top wines had good colour and freshness.

Good commercial class. Good use of yeast and fruit, oak minimalism, richness and texture. Few bad wines, older styles least preferred.

Disappointing class of thin watery wines. The best wine was in the Sauvignon Blanc style and was flavoursome and easily drinkable.

Judges Comments:

A very mixed quality class. Best wines had vibrancy with intensity. Many wines had too much alcohol and/or too much oak. The most common criticism is heavy wines developing fast and lacking vibrancy.

A large class of generally clean well made wines but lacking character. Many with hard unfriendly palates. A few good wines - some on the Pinot Chardonnay road with complexity and some on the fresh fruity Moscato road.
