QUEENSLAND BALLET SHOW OFF THEIR TALENT
Queensland’s Ekka is just around the corner with final touches being made.

From August 8 gates to the 136th Ekka will open as we welcome more than 400,000 people to see the best of our state – from the city to the country.

A must-see this year is the all new Ekka IgNites 360 night show presented by B105. This professionally produced show uses the latest technology, is inspired by the three elements – light, fire and water – and will feature surround sound music, fireworks, fire dancers, laser lights, water fountains, speed bike and monster truck action, and international performers.

I am also excited to announce that visitors to this year’s Ekka will have the opportunity to enjoy the new Royal International Convention Centre. This state-of-the-art building will be home to high end fashion, a wonderful food and wine precinct, dog ‘best in show’ competition and Queensland’s best fruit and vegetable exhibits.

Putting on the show each year takes a lot of teamwork and I would like to acknowledge the efforts of our Ekka volunteers, the stewards and judges, our incredibly hard working staff, sponsors and partners, who all play an essential part of staging Queensland’s largest and most iconic event.

I am looking forward to welcoming our fantastic RNA members, Ekka exhibitors, competitors, volunteers and visitors to this year’s show. We hope you enjoy Ekka 2013.

David Thomas
RNA President
Each year the RNA provides $4,000 towards a wine bursary for a Queensland winemaker and a Student winemaker to attend a week long immersion in an Australian wine region. Announced at the recent Royal Queensland Wine Show Gala Awards Dinner, supported by Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers, the 2013 Queensland Winemaker Bursary was awarded to Andy Williams (top left) while the student bursary was taken out by Tullawong High School student Kayla Sibley (bottom left).

A professional wine consultant, Andy is passionate about the future of the Queensland wine industry and would like to see major tourism investment in the Queensland wine regions. He has made wine for Twisted Gum Vineyards, Hidden Creek, Lucas Estate, Girraween Estate, Mason Wines and Casley Mount Hutton, and was recently an Associate Judge at the 2013 Royal Queensland Wine Show supported by Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers.

Kayla Sibley is a Year 12 student and hopes to pursue a career in science, either as a winemaker or similar, which will allow her to use her acquired knowledge and skills in chemistry.

Congratulations to Andy and Kayla!

Also “on show” was the headline acts of the brand new night show, Ricki-Lee Coulter, and Marvel superhero Iron Man.

The event is an avenue to successfully spread the Ekka message. By the end of the event the #EkkaLaunch13 hashtag was trending in the Brisbane region and reached an estimated 50,556 Twitter accounts, equivalent to approximately 340,447 impressions.

Members of Brisbane’s media got an exclusive sneak peek of Queensland’s largest and most loved event on July 16 at the 2013 Ekka Media Launch. This year’s launch was designed as a “mini Ekka” in the newly developed Industrial Pavilion (the new Royal International Convention Centre) and featured a snapshot of the show’s favourite attractions – the rides, the food and wine, the animals, the fashion and the new entertainment.

2013 Wine Bursary Winners

Award-winning Convention Centre

The RNA’s brand new Royal International Convention Centre has officially become an award-winning facility after taking out its first award at the recent Queensland Master Builders Association awards. The Royal ICC, submitted by Lend Lease Project Management and Construction (Australia), won the category ‘Tourism and Hospitality Facilities over $5 million’ – a huge feat for the 22,000m² state-of-the-art Centre which opened in February 2013.
Brisbane Showgrounds

THE REINVENTION OF A QUEENSLAND ICON

Just like the Ekka, Brisbane’s much loved showground has gone through many iterations of its namesake over the years. In 1876 it was called Bowen Park. Then in the early 1900’s it was known as the Brisbane Exhibition Grounds or Ekka Showgrounds; followed by the RNA Showgrounds in recognition of its custodian, the Royal National Agricultural and Industrial Association of Queensland. Many though simply know it as the Brisbane Showgrounds.

RNA unveils a new unifying brand

Following Ekka 2013 the RNA will launch a new unifying brand for the precinct – Brisbane Showgrounds – replacing RNA Showgrounds.

In response to the RNA’s $2.9 billion Regeneration Project in partnership with Lend Lease – which sees the long-term urban renewal of the site – the new name succinctly captures the two core attributes which best identify the precinct.

Brisbane Showgrounds will help to raise the profile and identity of the precinct and will better represent the various uses of the area – from the home of the Ekka and the new Royal International Convention Centre, to the location of an integrated community of residential, commercial and retail developments in the future.

It is an evolution of ‘RNA Showgrounds’ which has an established identity in the Brisbane and Queensland community. Brisbane Showgrounds is a simple message which clearly defines the precinct in terms of its physical location and its position within Australia’s new world city, while recognising its distinct heritage and character.

Other recognisable RNA brands will remain unchanged including the RNA’s corporate brand, Ekka, Royal Queensland Show, Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show and Royal International Convention Centre. Lend Lease developments, such as The Green apartments, will be maintained – but they will be identified as being located at the Brisbane Showgrounds.

Place-making

As the showgrounds become more accessible to the community as a year-round destination, identifying places and spaces within the larger showground precinct will be important.

Visitors will be able to easily identify a location to meet friends for whatever purpose – work, exercise, shopping, socialising and dining – and this is the first step in that place-making process.

As the site evolves, the RNA is focused on staying true to its charter, while striking the perfect balance between a thriving Ekka, a year-round events program and the emergence of a colourful eclectic community at the Brisbane Showgrounds.

BRISBANE IN FULL COLOUR
Four pillars – capturing the spirit of the Brisbane Showgrounds

The showgrounds has a unique character that will continue to be celebrated. These four pillars define what Queenslanders feel is important to the Brisbane Showgrounds and what should continue to be protected and celebrated in the future.

MODERN HISTORY: Preserving our rich heritage while embracing new life, energy and modern living.

PATCH & PADDOCK TO PLATE (PALATE): Celebrating and enjoying Queensland’s best produce, food and wine.

VILLAGE FEEL IN AN URBAN ENVIRONMENT: Rural values embedded in an urban environment…true community, true Brisbane; combining all the modern benefits of the city with the history and character of the country; shades of regional life in an urban environment.

ECLECTIC SPACE: Unexpected, expressive and energetic, offering a blend of diverse, authentic and cosmopolitan activities and spaces; a place of exchange and experience, creativity and vibrancy.
The Main Event

All about Queensland’s largest event – the Royal Queensland Show (Ekka) – including competitions, entertainment, exhibitors, personalities and people.

Ekka IgNites 360 presented by B105

The Ekka has invested more than half a million dollars in an all new professionally produced night show for Ekka patrons this year. The massive Ekka finale will see the sky erupt in a 360 degree blaze of colour, surround sound music, fireworks, fire dancers, international artists, H20 and speed bike action! This world-class entertainment event uses the latest technology and is inspired by the three elements – light, fire and water. With some never before seen acts, Ekka IgNites 360 presented by B105 will blow your mind.

Ricki-Lee Concert

Ricki-Lee Coulter will turn up the Ekka volume in a special arena performance each night. Discovered in 2004 on hit television show Australian Idol, Ricki-Lee has continued wowing crowds and receiving accolades throughout her music career. Growing up on the Gold Coast, she has since taken her music all over the world and gained international success.

Iron Man

Marvel superhero Iron Man will make an extraordinary appearance each night alongside his ally Oz Rocket Man who will fly through the air using a 800 horsepower Australian built jetpack. He’ll travel at speeds of up to 100kph with sweeping turns and pirouettes, to excite and marvel audiences.

Country Fun!

Just before the big night show, Ekka visitors will love the true blue Aussie entertainment when champion axemen, a monster truck, horse extraordinaire Frank Green, the smartest sheep dogs and the larrikins from The Rooftop Express Show transform the arena into a hive of country activity.

The Rooftop Express Show

The Rooftop Express, a brand new action and comedy horsemanship arena show featuring world first stunts, will pay homage to our primary industries, the outback and its cheeky bush characters.

Devil’s Taxi Monster Truck

Always a crowd pleaser, the Devil’s Taxi Monster Truck, with its high octane revving engine, will power its way into the Ekka driven by Sam Xuereb – the world record holder for the longest wheelie in a monster truck at 157 metres!

National Anthem

Special guests will pop into the Ekka each evening to sing the National Anthem including Rob Mills and Gretel Scarlett from the hit musical Grease, Viva Lale from The Voice Australia and 10-year-old Alayna Macaulay from Young Talent Time.
Five extra generators will be needed to power Ekka IgNites 360 presented by B105, giving off an atmosphere similar to that of a rock concert. Every seat in the Energex Community Arena will have a first class view of:

- 15 fireworks platforms
- 24 fire jets
- Kites
- Fountains that shoot water 30 metres high
- Six performers with fireworks strapped to their bodies dancing in synchronisation to music in an arena ringed by flames
- Ricki-Lee and her 10 dancers performing across five stages

The Main Event

The Courier-Mail Learning Fun Pavilion. Let your hands do the learning!
The Courier-Mail Learning Fun Pavilion is more than double the size than ever before and will introduce new entertaining and educational exhibits. This hands on pavilion is bursting with colour and activities from face painting to balloon displays and window painting and promises to be a sensory overload for young minds. Drop by to collect a free mini reading book from a famous Australian author and see back to back information sessions on the The Courier-Mail Learning Fun Stage.

Three New Ring Announcers!
The Ekka is Queensland’s premier competition event attracting more than 23,000 entries across 11,200 classes in 42 competition sections. For the first time the Ekka will have three dedicated ring announcers in the Energex Community Arena to call some of these wonderful competitions. New to show this year is ring announcer Scott Whitehouse who will be shown the ropes by season pro Rob Gaylard and up-and-comer Tim Dreverman.

Ekka’s Champions
With more than 1,000 new competitors each year and many representing third, fourth and fifth generations, the show continues to expand and evolve. Ekka 2013 will feature new classes across the arts, quilts, dogs, horses and sheep, plus an extra $23,000 in prize money for the woodchop competitions.
Ekka foodies

Ekka 2013 is all about focusing on local producers, their produce and the great dishes you can create with it. Some of Queensland’s best chefs, producers and foodie celebrities are joining forces to turn the spotlight on all things local at this year’s Ekka.

With the emergence of a fabulous new foodie precinct, your Ekka can be laced with food, wine and jazz. Spend the day darting between the new Fashion and Fine Food Pavilion and Agriculture Pavilion, in the Royal International Convention Centre, and the Woolworths Fresh Food Pavilion.

The Sunday Mail Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show Stage

Ekka’s favourite cooking stage brings out the best of Australia’s produce, showcasing the top products unearthed during the RNA’s innovative Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show. This stage will again be hosted by well-known foodie Dominique Rizzo as she takes us on a memorable culinary experience while offering her tips and hints alongside some of Brisbane’s great chefs.

Kim McCosker, author of best-selling 4 Ingredients cookbook series will appear alongside Dominique to help everyday families save time and money in the kitchen by using fresh, seasonal produce, improvising ingredients and creating meals with simplicity.

See Kim on The Sunday Mail Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show Stage on:
▪ Sunday 11 August: 10:30am, 12:30pm and 1:30pm
▪ Monday 12 August: 10:30am, 12:30pm and 2:30pm
▪ Wednesday 14 August: 10:30am, 12:30pm and 2:30pm

Royal Queensland Steakhouse

The Ekka’s fine dining restaurant offers mouth-watering meals featuring Australia’s best beef and lamb as awarded in this year’s Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show. Whether you’re after the Wagyu, grain fed and grass fed steaks or the roasted lamb or vegetarian dishes, everyone will enjoy the wonderful dining experience at the Royal Queensland Steakhouse in the Fashion and Fine Food Pavilion, Royal International Convention Centre.

The Harvest and Hops Stage

New to the Ekka foodie experience, The Harvest and Hops Stage in the Woolworths Fresh Food Pavilion focuses on all things beer, cider and food related. Led by Matt Kirkegaard, visitors will learn what food matches best with their favourite beer and cider. Other foodies will join Matt onstage including May King who will present traditional Chinese Tea. With segments focusing on coffee and craft, cider, beer versus wine, matching craft beers, seafood and craft beers and the art of cocktail and beer blending, there is something to catch everyone’s attention.
Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show Champions

Cheese and Dairy + Ice-Cream, Gelato and Sorbet
For the third year in a row a blue cheese from Victoria took out the top award in the Cheese and Dairy Produce Show. Announced in May, Roweofords Blue from Berrys Creek Gourmet Cheese in Poowong was crowned Australia’s best cheese while Bulimba’s Sugo Mi’s Very Chocolate gelato took out the nation’s best ice-cream.

RNA Dairy Australia Student Made Cheese Competition
Brisbane’s Corinda State High School was awarded a champion trophy at the RNA Dairy Australia Student Made Cheese Competition for the second year. Corinda students were crowned best blue for their ‘Blue Sky’ cheese, while Fraser Coast Anglican College took out top honours for their creamy camembert.

Branded Beef + Branded Lamb
Grass fed beef reigned supreme in the Branded Beef Competition in June, while a New South Wales lamb producer was crowned Australia’s best in the Branded Lamb Competition. Wingham Beef Exports’ Manning Valley Naturally grass fed beef impressed the judging panel taking out the Grand Champion Award for its superb flavour profile and fantastic tender texture. The New England Gold lamb from Country Fresh Nationwide defended its champion title, again nudging out other entries with its unexpected high flavour profile.

Royal Queensland Wine Show supported by Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers
Shingleback’s D Block Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon 2010 was recently awarded Champion Wine of Show, winning the coveted Courier-Mail Trophy at the 2013 Royal Queensland Wine Show supported by Cooper Grace Ward Lawyers. Continuing the South Australian success story, Block 14 Shiraz 2012 by The Lane Vineyard won The Stodart Trophy for the Best Gold Medal winning Young Dry Red Wine. Queensland’s Golden Grove Estate was the highest scoring Queensland wine exhibitor, earning a gold medal for its Malbec.

Sausage King Competition
Outback Queensland butchers took home five of the six category trophies in the 2013 Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show and Australian Meat Industry Council’s State Sausage King Competition in July. Beef, lamb, poultry, continental and gourmet category winners all came from butchers in Toowoomba, Pittsworth and Warwick, while the pork category was taken out by a Tewantin local.

Ham, Bacon and Smallgoods Competition
For the first time, the Australian Meat Industry Council’s Ham, Bacon and Smallgoods Competition was held as part of the Royal Queensland Food and Wine Show. Judges worked their way through seven competition categories – leg ham on the bone, boneless leg ham, cooked corned silverside, bacon rashers, pre-cooked sausage, kabana and cheerios. Congratulations to Master Meats (Tewantin), Circle T Meats (Raceview), Westridge Meats (Toowoomba), Gray’s Modern Meat Mart (Toowoomba), Elite Meats (Boonah) and Schulte’s Meat Tavern (Plainland) who went home with champion trophies in July.
On Sean’s menu!

The iconic Ekka Strawberry Sundae is back this year and celebrating the 25 year partnership with The Prince Charles Hospital Foundation. 24 tonnes of strawberry and vanilla ice-cream, 9 tonnes of Queensland strawberries, 130,000 cones and 1,900 litres of cream will go into making these traditional sundaes for Ekka 2013.

In honour of this famous treat, RNA Executive Chef Sean Cummings and his team will serve up their variation in the Royal Queensland Steakhouse at Ekka 2013. Try it for yourself using this recipe.

Strawberry parfait with meringue tubes and Anzac cookie crumbs

Ingredients:

Strawberry parfait
- 500g strawberry puree
- 200g caster sugar
- 500g water
- 400g whipping cream
- 20g gelatine powder

Meringue tubes
- 100g egg white
- 200g caster sugar

Anzac cookie crumbs
- 125g plain flour
- 125g oats
- 60g sugar
- 100g desiccated coconut
- 10g treacle
- 100ml water
- 5g soda

Method:

Strawberry parfait:
1. Warm the strawberry puree, water and sugar until 85°C.
2. Add the gelatine powder mixed with 100ml of water to the strawberry puree.
3. Stir the strawberry mixture until the gelatine is combined.
4. Cool the mixture to 30°C, then whip the cream until soft peaks form and fold in the strawberry mixture.
5. Freeze it overnight in -18°C.

For the strawberry puree you can use 300g of fresh strawberries and blend with 250ml water, or simply purchase frozen strawberry puree.

Meringue:
1. Combine the egg white and caster sugar and whip until a hard peak forms.
2. Using a piping bag, pipe tube shapes on greaseproof paper and bake it at 70°C for 6 hours.

Anzac cookie crumbs:
1. Add all the Anzac cookies ingredients in a mixing bowl and mix it together until it forms a crumble dough.
2. Spread the cookies filling on the baking tray and bake it 170°C for 15 minutes.
3. Let the cookies cool then blend in a food processor until it is a crumb consistency.
